

COAL STRIKE AND UNREST IN UNITED STATES SUMMON VITAL SESSION OF CABINET BATTLE OVER TREATY RESERVATIONS IS ON

ADMINISTRATON LEADERS VOTE FOR SPEED ON MEASURES; ONE RESOLUTION WILL FINISH FIGHT

Propositions Will be Voted Upon Separately, Then Assembled in Unit Form for Final Ballot When Democrats Are Expected to Decide for Acceptance or Defeat of acPt.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Treaty opponents were victorious today in the senate's first vote on reservations. A motion by Senator McCumber to strike the preamble of the foreign relations committee reservations a provision requiring the consent of three allied reservations was beaten by a vote of 48 to 40. Republicans hailed the vote as an indication that their reservation program will be adopted, including the preamble which Hitchcock said, after consulting President Wilson would be "very embarrassing."

McCumber was the only republican voting with the democrats. Other mild reservationists voted with Senator Lodge. Democrats voting with Republicans were: Gore, Reed and Walsh. Following defeat of the first proposal, McCumber moved to strike out the requirement that approval of the reservations be made in writing but leaving the provision requiring acceptance by the allies. This was defeated by the same vote, 48 to 40.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The senate this afternoon adopted the preamble as it came from the foreign relations committee by a vote of 48 to 40.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The long expected battle over treaty reservations has begun. Democratic senators have been awaiting word from the white house before permitting a vote on any of the proposals.

Administration democrats in a caucus last night agreed to use speed on the measures in the treaty fight. Attempts to exercise closure will be made in the event of any of the "bitter ends" try to filibuster, it was decided.

When the reservations have been voted on separately, they will be assembled in the form of a complete resolution on which a final ballot will be taken. On this, it is expected, the democrats will make their decision to accept the reservations or defeat the treaty.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—After a conference today with President Wilson, Senator Hitchcock administration leader, declared that his forces in the senate would vote against any resolution on the treaty ratification. He said republican reservations in their present form are attached to it. Hitchcock said President Wilson would be entirely satisfied with any reservations Hitchcock felt justified in acceding to the league of nations covenant. The president, according to Hitchcock, expressed his pleasure at the defeat of the treaty amendments recently voted upon.

President Wilson agreed with Hitchcock, the senator said, that the pending Lodge reservations would be "destructive" and therefore unacceptable. When the lodge reservations are defeated as Hitchcock predicts, he will move for unqualified ratification, which he added, probably will not receive the necessary two-thirds majority in the senate.

Looks for Agreement.

Hitchcock declared he believes the ratification resolution which Lodge offered would be defeated. He will then offer the administration resolution. If this is defeated he said he believes Democrats and Republicans who favor the treaty can, in conference, agree on a resolution of ratification.

Hitchcock said he found Wilson "much improved." "The president sat propped up with pillows throughout the interview," he said. "He seemed keenly interested in putting and answering questions with his characteristic energy."

RED CROSS ROLL CALL BRINGS GOOD RETURNS

Pendleton's Red Cross roll call is bringing in good returns, according to Mrs. Anna Herrick, who with James H. Gwyn is in charge of the local campaign. She states that while predictions were made that this year's total would not be 50 per cent of that of last year, the present indications are that Pendleton will make a better showing than this estimate.

Prominent citizens, state local solicitors, have in some cases refused to give $1 for membership fees and this attitude is occasioning surprise among members of the committees who expect to use means to combat the situation. In general, however, the response to the call of "The Greatest Mother in the World" has been ready.

Good progress in the drive throughout the county is reported by C. K. Cranston, chairman. From Echo quite a satisfactory report was received this morning by long distance, while at Adams the work seems to be going well. Mr. Cranston was told, at Milton the workers have not yet been well organized but expect to make tomorrow a big day. Athens is conducting an active campaign.

Other towns have been slow about reporting definite results but all declare that they are working and are meeting with encouragement. Tomorrow and Tuesday are expected to be the big days for all the towns in the county.

A wire from Northwestern headquarters at Seattle today told that 1203 members signed during the first day of the roll call at Corpus Christi, Texas, recently signed out the total was. It is considered a mark of appreciation of the work of the Red Cross in relief that this number of persons subscribed although they are yet nearly destitute.

Should the election carry, the funds so raised are to be devoted by the district to the building of a new road from Butter creek to the Pete Shurtland bridge. HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION MAY BE BROUGHT HERE

Efforts are being made to bring to Pendleton Martin Pleshtin, heavyweight champion wrestler, in the near future for a match with Mike Howard of La Grande. Lists circulated among sporting enthusiasts in the city have received enough signatures to insure $150 and Lloyd Ireland, who is promoting the match, is hopeful of obtaining the necessary support to sign up the men.

Pleshtin, according to the Police Gazette, national sporting weekly, is standing out at this time as leader in the heavyweight division. In this week's edition it says of Pleshtin:

"The task in the heavy division is simple. Martin Pleshtin has proven his worth by holding open house in Madison Square garden, offering Stricker, Strangler Lewis, Caddock and Zivzako and any other heavyweight wrestler in the world any sum to meet him a finish match for the title. Jack Taylor was the only man willing to grapple with the 'Terror of the Mat,' resulting in a defeat chalked up against the Canadian champion, after a bitter contest."

FORTY-THREE PIECES OF NEW CONSTRUCTION UNDERWAY TODAY LEAD OREGON BUILDING

Forty-three pieces of new construction, ranging from houses costing $3000 to a flour mill and Elks temple to exceed $100,000 in cost, are in process of construction today in Pendleton. Since Jan. 1, the history of the city has been building activity been under way at one time, say persons in position to speak authoritatively.

Chief among the projects now requiring the services of 355 building trades mechanics are the $150,000 Collins Flouring Mill, the $130,000 Elks temple and the $40,000 St. Joseph's academy dormitory. There are nearly two scores of homes, costing as high as $18,000, in various stages of completion. Conservative estimates place the total value of new building under way at a half million.

Repair work in almost as great quantity is taxing the efforts of employers to find sufficient labor. The value of renewal work or additions now being made will approximate $100,000.

Evidence that the building activity is at a high point is shown by the membership figures of the Central Labor Council. Out of their 737 members in Pendleton, 355 are affiliated with the unions directly connected with building. Virtually every carpenter, brickmason and mechanic in the city is a union man.

The prosperity in construction now evident here is in excess of that shown in any city in the state, a well known builder said today. For its size, Pendleton is spending more money this year in new buildings than any Oregon town. Were materials forthcoming more rapidly and more skilled labor available, it is his belief that the present record would have been eclipsed.

The East Oregonian today received a wire from the Rudris Film Company, advising that the local photo-play, "A Romance of Pendleton," made in Pendleton recently, under the auspices of the East Oregonian, is a triumph in every sense of the word. "Donald Woodworth shows a unique aptitude for screen work and it will be very hard for the public to make up their minds other than he is professional in his excellence," said his critic. "Miss Lois Swaggart is as sweet and demure a lassie as has ever been screened and little Jean Cronin is a baby. Atherton is going to astonish everybody with her part in this photo play."

"The two villains played by Shirley Hevel and Harold Houser will come in for their share of applause, while the father and mother, played by Mayor Vanhook and Mrs. Sylvan G. Cohn are just as clever in their portrayals as anyone in the cast."
